

The Great Symphony

Note for 20260101 – Jer 10:21-25

1. Opening

Welcome to the Devotionals of The House of Bread. In the Word we read that we are to receive the Word of GOD by the Spirit, so I strongly urge you to pray before you receive the Devotional. Let Christ take the lead in your Spiritual Development.

Introduction

It is New Years Day, 2026, they say. In all my years, I have not known a time like this. Like a boat on sail in the many waterways of the earth, driven forth by the wind of GOD'S Holy Breath. A warning written so long ago, gaining traction in our modern day and I wonder if we are modern at all.

2. Scripture Text

Jeremiah 10:21-25 KJV

“[21] For the pastors are become brutish, and have not sought the LORD: therefore they shall not prosper, and all their flocks shall be scattered. [22] Behold, the noise of the bruit is come, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Judah desolate, and a den of dragons. [23] O LORD, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps. [24] O LORD, correct me, but with judgment; not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing. [25] Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name: for they have eaten up Jacob, and devoured him, and consumed him, and have made his habitation desolate.”

3. Devotional Reflection

In all fairness, as I am directed, so must I also make it known, for that Wind in my sails, blew upon me, from more than just these verses.

The Verse of the Day:

Isaiah 43:18-19 KJV

“[18] Remember ye not the former things, neither consider the things of old. [19] Behold, I will do a new thing; now it shall spring forth; shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert.”

<https://bible.com/bible/1/isa.43.18-19.KJV>

The comment of a friend, and then a section of it Highlighted in me:

Isaiah 14:1-27 KJV

“[1] For the LORD will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land: and the strangers shall be joined with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob. [2] And the people shall take them, and bring them to their place: and the house of

Israel shall possess them in the land of the LORD for servants and handmaids: and they shall take them captives, whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppressors. [3] And it shall come to pass in the day that the LORD shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from the hard bondage wherein thou wast made to serve, [4] that thou shalt take up this proverb against the king of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased! the golden city ceased! [5] The LORD hath broken the staff of the wicked, and the sceptre of the rulers. [6] He who smote the people in wrath with a continual stroke, he that ruled the nations in anger, is persecuted, and none hindereth. [7] The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet: they break forth into singing. [8] Yea, the fir trees rejoice at thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up against us. [9] Hell from beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming: it stirreth up the dead for thee, even all the chief ones of the earth; it hath raised up from their thrones all the kings of the nations. [10] All they shall speak and say unto thee, Art thou also become weak as we? art thou become like unto us? [11] Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the noise of thy viols: the worm is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee. [12] How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations! [13] For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north: [14] I will ascend above the heights of the clouds; I will be like the most High. [15] Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit. [16] They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdoms; [17] that made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof; that opened not the house of his prisoners? [18] All the kings of the nations, even all of them, lie in glory, every one in his own house. [19] But thou art cast out of thy grave like an abominable branch, and as the raiment of those that are slain, thrust through with a sword, that go down to the stones of the pit; as a carcase trodden under feet. [20] Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, and slain thy people: the seed of evildoers shall never be renowned. [21] Prepare slaughter for his children for the iniquity of their fathers; that they do not rise, nor possess the land, nor fill the face of the world with cities. [22] For I will rise up against them, saith the LORD of hosts, and cut off from Babylon the name, and remnant, and son, and nephew, saith the LORD. [23] I will also make it a possession for the bittern, and pools of water: and I will sweep it with the besom of destruction, saith the LORD of hosts. [24] The LORD of hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass; and as I have purposed, so shall it stand: [25] that I will break the Assyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot: then shall his yoke depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their shoulders. [26] This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations. [27] For the LORD of hosts hath purposed, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?"

Together then, with this from Jeremiah 10:21-25; and I am left in wondering, how a simple man like me are given front row seats, to a spectacle playing out across thousands of years.

I hear the Symphonies play, and like actors on some eternal stage, the kingdoms of man rise and fall, and as the conductor of this greater life stands the Most High GOD, directing every note and every vocal performance if it has been rehearsed a thousand times, and yet, the actors forgot their lines and went off script. And still, somehow it still works, the movements in the heavens and the earth have kept on pressing, each in its appointed direction, as man stands in rebellion to the Creator.

Now here we stand in just one of those many, many days, at the start of the year 2026, according to the testimonies of the calendar keepers, as time shifts through day and night, ceaselessly.

I cannot see just the solo act of one, and I stand in witness of this grand occurrence. Mankind is pressing on to build their kingdoms, house by house, soul by soul and I wonder, who receives the glory of it all.

I see the Conductor, I see the movements of the heavenly choirs. I see man run to and fro, like the bow on strings, and I wonder: Who is this tuned played for?

A sea of glass, a multitude upon it with golden harps in hand, singing the song of Moses and the song of the Lamb. (Revelation 15:1-8)

I wonder, when shall the seven angels bring the last seven plagues? What I write here in some broken form of prose, echoed through the many centuries started in an act of GOD and the rebellion that ensued. The War of heaven poured out on the surface of this earth, as beats rise in insurrection against the Most High's Throne.

Oh! Bring forth the Lamb, even in His Wrath. Let them run for cover, let them trust in the idols they have built up so high. As for me and my house, we will praise the LORD. A mystery unto the Salvation of the earth, those that live in both land and sea shall stand at woe!

Still, each plays their own notes, each sings their lines as written on their heart, a symphony sounding like chaos from below, but once separated, each will sing their songs for the kingdoms they chose. Once separated, like sheep and goats, each following the voice they know. Once separated, the melodies will no longer compete, then harmony can be restored, each melody, for the kingdom that it is sung for, one for life and many for death.

Selah, Shalom

4. Closing Paragraph

PS:

Friends, I only write what I receive, and sometimes even I must read through it many times. I trust the LORD. If you ask me... This is probably for a song to speak of the echoes of forces standing head-to-head across time, from the beginning to the end.

5. Resources

Playlists:

Over the last few months and years, we have compiled a few playlists on SoundCloud. Feel free to explore it, download it and share with friends and family.
